Principal Message

At the end of January, we sent home progress reports for our students. It was my pleasure to be able to read all of the comments that were written to the students. As teachers, we continually collect progress data, but writing comments reflecting on a students' progress is a bit different.

Report comments come from an analysis of all of the information the teacher has, and they represent a summary of that information. That is the science of comment writing, but the real art has to do with crafting comments that are encouraging as far as what the student has done well, and showing practical ways that students can grow. I must say that I am very pleased with the way our teachers are able to write comments that balance stating areas of positive past performance, with words that encourage growth in a way that is informative and motivational. However, without a doubt, the One who knows how to do this best is our Lord, via practical experiences we have, by inspiring our brothers and sisters to interact with us, and often directly speaking to us through the Holy Spirit.

As recorded in John, when speaking of the Father, Jesus said that "every branch in me that does not bear fruit He takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit He prunes, that it may bear more fruit." (John 15:2) Although this most clearly speaks of how we must remain in Jesus to be fruitful, I believe that this pruning process also happens in multiple areas of our lives.

I am thankful for God's encouragement in my life when I am feeling down, reminding me that He is with me and will support me in the tough times. I appreciate how God sends brothers and sisters to encourage me to continue to do what He desires of me. I am also thankful that the Holy Spirit speaks to my spirit in ways that do not allow me to stagnate in my faith. And although this may be dangerous to write (as I am asking God to keep allowing this to happen) I am thankful for the difficult situations God puts me in that challenge me and cause me to grow. Jesus tells us that all of these things will allow us to fulfil God's will in a more powerful way, in that "By this my Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit and so prove to be my disciples." (John 15:8)

One other thing for us to consider is that we need the right motivation as we are used by God to correct our brothers and sisters. Jesus tells us that His commandment is "that you love one another as I have loved you." (John 15:12) That means loving others so much that we would be willing to die for them. (John 15:13). For myself, that means I am not "happy that I showed them" after I am done working to correct someone else, but rather, I feel their hurt over what has gone wrong and I genuinely desire to help and support them in their return to a right standing with God and with others.

I sensed a genuine care and love for our students when I read our teachers' comments to them. I think that our teachers may have drawn on their own experience with others encouraging them to grow, including the prodding they have received from the Holy Spirit, as they wrote comments for our students. I thank God for the staff that we have, especially that they lovingly help our students discover and grow in their role as co-laborers who play their part in God's story.

Blessings,
Prakash Raju

Lock Down Drill

In keeping with our school's commitment to student and staff safety, on February 12, 2026, we will be running a lockdown drill to ensure staff and students understand what to do during a lockdown. Before that date, teachers will explain the lockdown procedure to students. Teachers will also talk to students about why we practice the lockdown drill – which is to help students learn what to do to be safe. By running drills in a safe, age-appropriate and calm manner, we will help students cope with the concerns and anxious feelings they may experience.

If you have questions about this, please contact your child's teacher or our principal, Mr. Raju at 780-674-5581.

NCES NEWS

Neerlandia Christian Education Society (NCES) & Neerlandia Public Christian School Council (NPCSC) met January 19 with board members, Principal Raju, School Trustee Kane and Teacher Rep. Mrs. Lee. Principal Raju asked for input on the NPCSC calendar, as well as addressing the AERR in regards to NPCSC and the 2024/25 Provincial Achievement Test's (PAT). We also talked about the possibility of NPCSC hosting an event for parents and what topics might be helpful or of interest. NCES also committed to supporting and serving again at the school's "Winter Walk" when a date is set. NCES will meet again February 17 at 7pm, and the next joint meeting for NPCSC & NCES is March 16 at 7pm.
